MAYOR H. C. COLE

Falls Peacefully to Rest After a Short Illness.

His Death a Great Shock To The Entire Community.

Last Tuesday morning the Angel of Death invaded the home of one of our city's most respected citizen's, and with the sickle of death severed the chord of life of our city's beloved Mayor, Hon. H. C. Cole.

Mr. Cole had been in failing health for some time, and on July 4th last left for Asheville, N. C., where he spent a month resting up, after which he returned home, feeling very much built up in health, but he was never again able to enter actively into his work as traveling salesman for the Altscheller & Co., of Louisville, but was up and about most of the time.

On Monday he was out as was his custom, mingling with his friends on the street, and making preparations to return Tuesday afternoon to Asheville.

Monday night about 9 o'clock he was taken dangerously ill, and a physician was called, who remained with him during the night. Tuesday morning he was better and sat up and conversed with friends until about 8 o'clock when he was again taken worse, and in a few moments sank to rest in the sleep that knows no waking.

Mr. Cole was very popular throughout this section of the State, and had a very wide circle of friends who will mourn his death.

He was Mayor of the city of Barbourville and his term of office would not have expired until next January. He received the solid instruction of Knox county two years ago for the nomination for Congress to fill the unexpired term of Hon. Vincent Boreing, deceased.

He was a power in local politics, and the man who had his support always felt that he was greatly benefitted thereby.

He was public-spirited, and during his administration as Mayor, had worked unceasingly to build up and improve our town.

He was loyal to his friends, and always fought his enemies in the open, and treated every man with that noble and true spirit of Kentucky manhood that so distinctly marked his character.

While not a member of any church, he was a Methodist in belief, and always gave liberally to the church and always assisted whenever called upon.

He was a member of Mountain Lodge, No. 187, F. & A. M. and also of Tephonolas Tribe, No. 111, Imp. O. R. M.

The funeral services were conducted Wednesday afternoon at the Methodist church by Rev. T. B. Stratton, assisted by Rev. J. P. Faulkner, after which, on account of the downpour of rain, the burial services were postponed until 9 o'clock Thursday morning. The remains were buried in the honors of Masonry, by request, the Red Men's Tribe gave way to the Masons, and only that Order was represented at the funeral as a body.

Tephonolas Tribe met Wednesday and appointed a committee to draft resolutions, which were read in open Lodge and unanimously adopted, as follows:

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT
Of Tephonolas Tribe, No. 111, Imp. O. R. M., Barbourville, Ky.
WHEREAS, It has pleased the Great

Spirit to call from the Hunting Grounds of our Tribe the spirit of our deceased brother, Henry C. Cole, to join with those who have crossed over the river and are now roaming the forests of Eternity; therefore be it Resolved, That in the death of Bro. Cole that our Tribe has suffered the loss of a worthy brother, and that our community has suffered an irreparable loss, and that the city of Barbourville has lost an official and a citizen whose place it will be hard to fill. That one has been called to his last reward who was public spirited, and one who was fearless in his life, both public and private, and who was always ready to help in any cause where his services could be of benefit.

Resolved, That we deeply deplore the sad bereavement that has befallen us as a Tribe and as a community, and that we meekly bow to the will of the Great Spirit.

Resolved, That we extend to the bereaved family of our deceased brother the true sympathy that throbs within the breast of every true Red Man.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread at large upon the records of our Order, and a copy be handed to the family of our deceased brother and copy furnished to the Mountain Advocate for publication.

M. G. HIGNEY

Writes Us a Letter of Congratulation Upon Our Effort to Build Up Knox County.

Lawrenceburg, Ky., Aug. 17, 1905.
D. W. Clark,
Barbourville, Ky.,

DEAR FRIEND:—I write to congratulate you on the splendid work of your paper. The subjects of the valued articles you have been publishing on public improvements and steps toward developing our county is of inestimable value to our people.

Every citizen should think and speak toward the developments. A new Court-house would be a good thing; our town would be greatly built up by having trains run from Brush creek to it evenings and mornings. But the new railroad from Jellico to Beattyville is the salvation of our county and town. From the interest taken by counties along the line it seems possible for it to be built. The route is certainly a paying one.

If the right start is made the money can easily be raised; for the eyes of the capitalists of this country are to-day fixed on the coal industry in the mountains of Kentucky.

With this road Barbourville will be a city of from 5,000 to 8,000, and Knox county will be the heart of the wealth, industry and progress of all Eastern Kentucky.

Let us hope and strive to get it. Very respectfully,
M. G. HIGNEY.

Pleasant Entertainment.

Miss Myrtle Cole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Cole, entertained a number of her little friends last Saturday afternoon from two to four o'clock, and a delightful time was had by those present. Ices were served, and the little folks had a jolly good time. Those present were Misses Mollie Smith, Mary Sawyer, Nannie Riley, Ada Stevens, Amelia Ballinger, Nell England, Winnie and Pattie Blackburn, Lois Shively, Lolla Johnson, Mabel Matthews, Lucy Tinsley, Laura Faulkner, Elsie Wilson, Annie D. Albright, Willie Blythe, Blanche Hale, Maud Cole, Ellen Clark and Masters Guy Dickinson, Haskell Golden, John Hale, Harry Smyth, George Miller, Floyd Jarvis, Clarence Davis.

JUDGE FAULKNER

Writes an Interesting Letter Concerning Bribery in Elections.

LAYS DOWN THE LAW AND FACTS.

Judge H. C. Faulkner, of the Twenty-seventh Judicial District has received a letter from one of his constituents, which, together with his answer, may be of general interest of this State. The letter in full is as follows:

Warbranch, Ky., Aug. 6, 1905.
Hon. H. C. Faulkner,
Barbourville, Ky.

DEAR SIR:—We have several very warm races coming up in the primary election for candidates for county offices in this county. I have several relations and friends who are candidates in this primary. I desire to take a hand with them in the election. I am not conversant with the election law, and do not wish to violate the law. I ask you, as my personal friend, for your advice upon the matter as to how far a man may go in the way of treating, etc., for his friends in the election. Please answer at your earliest convenience, and oblige,
Your friend,
LEVY PENNINGTON.

Barbourville, Ky., Aug. 15, '05.
Levy Pennington,
Warbranch, Ky.

DEAR SIR:—In answering your letter of August 6th I have to say that one cannot use money to influence voters in an election without violating the statute, nor can one receive money from another for that purpose without being guilty of being bribed, nor can one use money to influence voters in an election without being guilty of bribing another.

Section 1286, Kentucky Statutes, provides first: That any person guilty of receiving a bribe for his vote at an election, for services or influence in producing a vote or votes at an election, shall be fined from fifty to five hundred dollars and be excluded from office and suffrage.

"Second.—Bribe or bribery means any reward, benefit or advantage, present or future, to the party influenced or intended to influence, or to another at his instance, or the promise of such reward, benefit or advantage."

"Third.—Whoever shall receive money or other things of value to be used for the purpose of procuring or influencing a vote or votes shall be deemed to have been bribed.

You will notice that I have omitted betting on the result of an election, which under certain circumstances, constitutes bribery, or being bribed.

"Section 1587.—Whoever shall bribe another shall, on conviction, be fined from fifty to one hundred dollars, or imprisoned from ten to ninety days, or both so fined and imprisoned, and be excluded from office and suffrage."

Your next grand jury will be instructed to indict every person violating either of these sections. Emphasis will be laid upon the corruption incident to the use of money and liquor in our elections and primaries. No man will be allowed to sit upon your grand jury until he can take an oath that he has not, directly or indirectly, violated either of the above statutes within the last eighteen months. Heretofore I have had difficulty in enforcing these two sections, mainly because four or more persons, who were themselves either deeply implicated, or whose immediate friends were implicated, were upon the grand jury.

I am determined to break up the wholesale practice of bribery in this judicial district, if it be possible to do so in a legal manner. Knowing you to be a good citizen, as I do, I hope you will aid me in every legitimate manner within your influence. Say to your friends everywhere that they cannot afford, directly or indirectly, to accept from any candidate to be used for the corruption of voters either in the primary or general election. That they cannot, unless they mean to violate the law and become guilty of bribery, to use their own money for their friends to corrupt the voter, that he who receives money from another to be used in an election for the purpose of influencing voters in such an election is already bribed himself, and should be fined from fifty to five dollars, and excluded from office and suffrage. And that in my judgment, we will not be able to break up bribery in this State until we punish those who buy votes, their aiders and abettors, as strictly as we would the poor devil who sells his vote.

As soon as we understand the law to the effect that he who takes money and goes forth to buy votes, or to have it done by others, is himself bribed, and is as much a violator of the law as he who gives the money, and when we enforce the law along these lines, we shall have more than half the battle won.

Nor can our candidates for office afford to use money in the primary or general election. If they do they must give that money out to somebody for use in the several precincts and wards, and this very act is of itself a violation of Section 1587, quoted above.

I propose to have every candidate in your coming primary election brought before the next grand jury, and carefully examined under oath by your Commonwealth's Attorney touching his use of money in that election and to have from him the names of all persons among whom he distributed his money or liquor, if any. This policy will be pursued in every county in this district and rigidly adhered while I remain judge of your district. It will be applied to all parties and factions of parties alike, and to all primary and general elections.

The giving, selling, loaning and procuring for another, spirituous liquors on election day, is prohibited by our election law. Aside from this, the giving of liquor to any voter for the purpose of influencing his vote is bribery; and the person so receiving it for such purpose is bribed. This is a fair meaning of Section 1587, Kentucky Statutes given above. I am,

Very truly your friend,
H. C. FAULKNER.

Look Out For PARKER & PARKER.

All over the country you can hear the people saying, "let's dress up, be somebody, and go to the Knox County Fair." Now why not come around and let us do our part in making you look like somebody?

We are selling groceries, hardware, tobaccos, &c., cheap, and for the next ten days we will sell dry goods, notions, clothing, hats, shoes, ties, shirts, pants, children's clothing, underwear, socks, etc., as cheap as the goods bought by the Irishman who gave his note for them. Come right in now, we are ready to wait upon you.

JOSEPH MILLER

Shot and Seriously Wounded Lloyd Scott at Bailey's Switch Monday.

The town was thrown into a state of excitement Monday morning when the news reached here that a murder had been committed at Bailey's Switch, two miles north of town, that Lloyd Scott, a young man 18 years of age, had been shot and killed by Joseph Miller, but later developments proved that Scott was not killed although he was shot entirely through the body with a 45-caliber revolver.

From the best information we can gather it seems that Miller, who lives in that vicinity, was delivering staves to the depot to market, and that he had accused young Scott of stealing one hundred of them.

When Miller rode up to where the hands were unloading staves Scott was there and words between the two followed, in which Miller accused Scott of the theft. He denied it, whereupon Miller drew from his saddle pockets a 45 Colts revolver and fired three shots at the boy who was fleeing from him; the last shot struck him in the side and passed entirely through the body.

Miller was immediately arrested by the citizens present, led by Mr. John Bailey, and held until the Sheriff was notified, and went to the scene and brought Miller to town and lodged him in jail.

The examining trial was set for Tuesday morning but Miller waived examination and the case will go over to the Circuit Court.

JOHN COX

Run Down and Killed by a South Bound Freight Near the Depot Sunday Night.

John Cox, a young man about 18 or 20 years of age, was run down and killed last Sunday night on the L. & N. Ry. at the stone quarry.

The last seen of him alive was Sunday night about 9 o'clock, when he left the home of Mr. Shorter, near the trestle, and started toward town. He was considerably under the influence of whisky at the time.

Monday morning at daylight the body was found in a horribly mangled condition lying between the rails. The feet were cut off between the knees and ankles, and the legs chewed up by the wheels close up to the body, both arms were mangled and crushed. All the top of the head was cut off and gone, blood, flesh and brains, together with the small fragments of clothing were scattered along for a distance of seventy-five yards.

Judge Miller was notified and an inquest was held and the verdict was in accordance with the facts as already stated.

Cox was a son of James Cox, who formerly operated a still for N. A. Chamberlain here.

The proposition to build the new Court-house is talked now more than it was when we first began to agitate the question.

The stand taken by Judge Faulkner to compel the Fiscal Court to either build a new house on a desirable location or enlarge the building we now have and stop all hauling over the public square has caused the people to think more seriously concerning the matter.

To repair the old house and enlarge the clerk's office, court room, and add fire-proof vaults, jury rooms and other needed improvements to the old building would cost almost as much as a new building and when it is done we would have nothing but an old worked-over building of it, and then the hardship that it would cause the public to be cut off from using the public square as a public thoroughfare would work a hardship on all. This can all be saved by selecting a proper site and building a new Court-house on it and tearing the old building away, and using it, as far as it will go, in the construction of the new house. Besides, if the bonds are voted to build the new house the tax rate will not have to be increased and the debt paid off in ten years and we will never know that we have had the burden, while if the bonds should be defeated and the court is forced to levy a tax for two or three years in order to pay for the improvements that will necessarily have to be made it will prove a hardship on all the tax-payers and there will be no way out of it.

Now the sensible thing to do is for every one to vote for the issuing of bonds and let the Fiscal Court sell the bonds for the necessary money to build the new Court-house and then set apart a certain per cent of the taxes collected each year to be known as a sinking fund, and from that fund the bonds can be redeemed as they fall due, and also the accumulated interest kept paid up. This would make the burden light on all, and any new comers to our county will help to bear this burden instead of us having to bear it all at once. Think of this, tax-payers, and when you take your stencil to cast your vote on the proposition of issuing bonds for the new Court-house, vote for the bonds and you will have done what is your duty to your family and your country. Vote for the bonds.

The railroad proposition seems to meet with the hearty approval of every one, and there is a strong indication that the road will be under way at an early date. We had a gentleman from Cincinnati call last Friday to make some inquiry concerning the proposed road, and after explaining to him the resources along the proposed route and describing to him the territory through which the road would pass, he said that it was a very practicable road, and that it would not be difficult to secure capital to construct such a road.

Teachers and Sweepers.

Some figures have just been collected and published, upon good authority, which ought to make all public spirited Americans blush with shame.

In New Haven, Conn., one of the country's most prominent seats of learning, there are schools teachers getting only $300 a year, while the lowest pay given street sweepers is $530.

Street sweeping is a worthy occupation, deserving of a comfortable living. "Cleanliness," the world has long been admonished, "is next to godliness." But the street sweeper requires no special talents or training. His character need not be such as to exert an influence for good mentality and morals upon the rising generation. A pull at the polls is the only qualification commonly required.

That the street sweeper should be put above the school teacher on the pay roll, in the shadow of one of the greatest colleges in the world, shows a strange inconsistency in a people who make of education a fetish.

Unfortunately, New Haven does not stand alone.

The figures show that Chicago, Washington, Columbus, Ga., and Meridian, Miss., are the only cities in the United States where the minimum pay of school teachers is higher than the minimum pay of the street sweepers.

We do a lot of bragging about the common school system of this country. We are very proud of our general education. We like to think and say that our learning is illuminating the remotest points of the earth.

But there is not so much complacent satisfaction for self-respecting people in the fact that these great results have been brought about not through our own liberality, but through the sacrifice and self-denial of the thousands of noble men and women who gave their trained minds their high character, their whole lives to the uplifting of our children, and get but a bare pittance.

High talents and long training are required to teach school—talents and training that if applied in a more selfish occupation would command rich returns.

The school teacher accepts a self-sacrifice that is unappreciated and wholly uncalled for.

The prosperous and fair-minded American people ought to be ashamed to permit it.

There may be many reforms needed in this land, but none that would more advance justice and increase our self-respect as a people than the elevation of the school teachers above the level of street sweepers and the paying of salaries commensurate with their high services.

To the Pacific Coast—to California, Oregon, Washington—round-trip, long transit and return limits, liberal stop-over privileges.

The rate is practically on the basis of one fare for the round trip. Of course, if you wish to visit both California and Oregon or Washington, the cost is slightly more.

These reduced rates are in effect on certain dates in months of May to October, inclusive. They apply from all Eastern points via Chicago, St. Louis or Memphis gateways. The Rock Island System will take you up in either Chicago or St. Louis, or at hundreds of other Middle West points and carry you to the Coast in through Standard or Tourist Sleepers with unexcelled Dining Car service. The Rock Island also affords a choice of routes: on the "Scenic" route you can stop off in Colorado—see Salt Lake City—visit Yellowstone National Park; on the "Southern" route you can go via El Paso, thru New Mexico, then "up coast" to San Francisco and on to Portland or Seattle if desired.

In short, these Pacific Coast excursions offer an unusually good chance to see our western country in a comprehensive manner.

If you desire to go only as far as Colorado, there are excursion rates in effect to that section and return, all summer long, specially reduced June 30 to July 4, August 12 and 13, and August 30 to September 4. Extension trips to Ogden or Salt Lake and return at low cost also.

From September 15 to October 31, 1905, one-way tourist or "colonist" tickets will be on sale to California and the Pacific Northwest—about half regular fare.

If interested, send name and address on this coupon, designating which booklet wanted and to what point you plan to go. Name probable date of start also, so we can advise definitely with respect to rates, etc.

Prof. George H. Reibold made a trip to Harlan county the latter part of last week in the interest of Union College.

Charley Cole arrived yesterday morning from Chanute, Kans. He was called here by the death of his uncle, H. C. Cole.

J. H. Byrley was called from Cincinnati this week by the death of Mayor H. C. Cole, who was a brother-in-law of his.

Miss Madeline Warters, of Knoxville, accompanied by her grandmother Warters, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Decker, this week.

Robert Tuggle came home Saturday from Cincinnati to rest up and recuperate for a few days and visit homefolks here. He is engaged in the insurance business in that city.

LOCALS.

A large crowd from this place is in attendance at the London Fair this week.

The rainy season continues and the weeds are growing in profusion.

Born—Wednesday night to the wife of Dr. E. B. Dishman, a 10-pound boy.

NOTICE TO PATRONS.—Those who desire to secure meats from our market during the three days of the Fair next week, will please leave all orders before 9 o'clock a. m. and after 4 o'clock p. m., as we will both necessarily be absent from the market between those hours.

Respectfully,
STIVERS & HATTON.

The first issue of the Collegial Journal, edited by Prof. G. H. Reibold, and issued from this office, came out this week. It is an eight-page four column paper printed on fine, pure white-coated paper and profusely illustrated with cuts of the college buildings, professors, etc., with a descriptive write-up of each; also some choice selections of news devoted to the college work.

The edition is a credit to its editor, and must be seen to be appreciated.

KNOX CIRCUIT COURT.

Frank D. Summers, Lewis P. Margab, &c. Plffs. against The Big Five Oil Co., and J. H. Carter, Defts.

Under a judgment herein rendered at the August term, 1905, the undersigned will on MONDAY, AUGUST 28, 1905.

Between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m. sell at the Court-house door in Barbourville, Ky., on a credit of three months, the lease and leasehold created upon the farm of Joseph Turner's heirs, lying in Knox county, Ky., on the waters of Big Richland Creek, with all machinery, including one 15-horse power engine, one 25-horse power pump, piling power, buildings, tanks and all other equipments belonging to said company.

Said property will be sold to raise the sum of $600 with interest from April 27, 1904, and the sum of $250 with interest from November 15, 1904, and about $40 cost.

The purchaser will give bond with good security bearing interest from date and having the force and effect of a judgment.

Given under my hand this August 8, 1905.

THE HOME CIRCLE COLUMN.

A Column Dedicated to Tired Mothers as they Join the Home Circle at Evening Tide.

HERE'S A DADDY'S SONG.

"Must all thy songs be mother song, My bonny baby boy?

Do poet's write no other songs, That father's name employ?

Then I'll right the monstrous wrong; Come, boy, and hear thy daddy's song.

But first a toss high in the air, To hear his merry shout, And then a tickle here and there, To bring the dimples out, And then a romp upon the floor, Oh, precious little tousele head!

Now, then, wee barefoot boy, take care! Run swiftly o'er the floor, And father'll be a brain bear, And growl, and bite and paw! Why, bless us, boys, what flimsy stuff! Dad's song is rag time, sure enough.

There, now of play we've had our fill, 'Tis coddle time, I know, (How very bright his eyes are still) "Hush, baby mine, by-law!" Come, come, you little rascal you, Dad's had enough of pee-a-boo!

Hush, hush, my boy, to sleep with thee! (I wish his mamma'd come!) Thy father'll turn into a bee, If longer he must hum. Ah, well, to lull a child to rest, A mother song, perchance, is best."

SOME one has wisely said that society's "brow" needs to be decorated women's jewels who are too highly educated or cultured to love their husbands and to be faithful to them; not too brilliant to be good mothers and wise counselors for their children, and not too progressive to wear their husband's names and reflect credit upon themselves.

ACTIONS die—sometimes; words live. "Be sure you are right, then go ahead!" was Dave Crockett's motto in life. Have a purpose in life—a right purpose—then press on. Success will finally crown your efforts. If the world despises you because you do not follow its way, if you are right now show it by your life and finally the world will turn to your way of thinking and give you credit.

"GIRLS, you cheapen yourselves by lack of purpose in life," says Rena L. Miller. "You show commendable lack in pursuing your studies, your alertness in comprehending and ability in surmounting difficult problems have become proverbial; nine times out of ten you outrank your brothers thus far; but when the end is attained, the goal reached, whether it be the graduating certificate from a graded school or a college diploma, for nine out of every ten it might as well be added thereto, 'dead further to activity,' or 'sleeping until marriage shall resurrect her!'"

IF my boy should leave school with his head full of history and grammar and the classics and modern languages, and all the other studies of the curriculum, and yet should not have in his heart to lay a willing obedience to law—the law of the school, the law of the community in which he lives, the law of the state and nation—we should feel that his time had been thrown away. We need in all our schools insistence upon obedience to proper authority, for these boys of to-day are the citizens of to-morrow, and everywhere throughout the length and breadth of the land we must have more, prompt and willing obedience to the law.

FATHERS now basking in the sunset of life may not readily recall all their early experiences in life, their struggles and triumphs of early manhood, but every feature of their childhood home, the playhouses they helped their sisters build are photographed upon the heart's tablet and will never fade away. The golden light of eternity will not dim the brightness of this picture. One will never forget the place of his birth, the little broken cart, the sled and kite, and the older brother who led the way to the hillside where the fairest wild flowers bloomed. These sacred memories will never grow less bright or dim with age.

BABIES IN THE HOME.

There is nothing which brightens and completes a home so much as those merry beams of sunshine called babies, and God pity and forgive the sinful, shallow-minded woman who considers their advent and career a reproach rather than a sacred trust from God. Truly, when conscientiously filled, the office of motherhood is woman's masterpiece of life. Why should she care about woman's suffrage? "The hand that rocks the cradle is the hand that rules the world," and I dare say there are greater powers and mightier possibilities for mothers to attain in the nobler and broader education and culture of the rising generation than in the ballot. There is not a mother so deprived of the luxuries of this world who cannot give to her children, life's sweetest and richest gift, a mother's companionship. She may be unable to adorn their bodies with fine clothing, but she can adorn their minds with pure and lofty ideals, which will be more to the world than all the crown jewels of the empire. Someone has said that no one can advise so readily as one wanting in experience, but as I assure you the writer is a wife and mother, one who has attained an unseasonable guest, when the grocery supply was low, the fuel wet and the little girls peevish and cross. My, a real patience breeder, isn't it? We all love to see patience, but it cannot be cultured in fair weather. Patience is a child of storm. When we have everything desirable and things move on systematically, we have no need for patience, but when we stand chin deep in annoyances, it is time for us to swim out toward the great headlands of Christian attainment.

You watch the artist as he touches his canvas again and again, and wonder why he does not dash it on with one stroke. No, it requires 5,000 of those touches. And so it is dear friend, these seemingly humble duties of life, these 10,000 trials patiently borne, are making up the picture of your life, to be hung at last in the galleries of heaven, a glad spectacle for angels to look upon.

Book on California

36 pages, 76 illustrations. Describes California and the route there. Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific Line.

This is the route of The Overland Limited. Leaves Union passenger Station, Chicago, 6:03 p. m. daily. Arrives San Francisco the third day in time for dinner. California book sent for 6 cents postage. F. A. Miller, General Passenger Agent, Chicago, or W. S. Howell, 381 Broadway, New York.

THE EUREKA CLIPPER

This is a greatly improved device which has found great demand on cattle ranches and stock farms. It is a powerful instrument, one whose knives cannot interlock or get out of their true planes. It has two moving knives which are V shaped and cut from four sides at once, thus the work is done much quicker, easier, smoother and better in every way than any other clipper on the market. Send for catalogue and price list.

THE KIND OF PAINT TO BUY

Kinloch

Important Memorandum.—The Kinloch Paint Company, of Chicago, Ill., has just issued a new and complete catalogue of its products. It contains full descriptions of all the various kinds of paint, and also full instructions as to the proper use of each. It is a most valuable book, and one which every painter, decorator, or householder should have. It is sent free of charge to all who send for it. Write for it at once.

We strongly recommend Kinloch Paint. The pure, new linseed oil in the "life" of paint, and when you buy Kinloch Paint you buy the fresh linseed oil at the same time right out of the barrel. Mix together gallon for gallon—and you have the best paint that brains can make and money can buy. The Best per gallon is less than for inferior grades of "Ready-Mix" Paint. "Kinloch" is ready to mix. Come and see us—we'll tell you all about "KINLOCH" and save you money—in first cost, and in the cost per year's wear.
